Earlene Is Ma-ie Day Princess

All-School Election Puts 14 In Office

1202 Voters Vote In 6 Hour Span

The Ben Gallagher Game Room was a polling place Wednesday as 1202 students turned out to vote.

There were a total of 14 students put into office besides the election of Ma-ie Day Princess. Four Student Council members for each class were elected and two students gained positions on the Board of Student Publications.

Freshmen elected to sophomore Student Council are Kristy Isaacson, Chi Omega; Mike Mench, Pi Kappa Alpha; Doug Slaughter, Sigma Phi Epsilon and Kathy Wybenga, Chi Omega.

Pat Karre, Chi Omega; Patti Matson, Chi Omega; Johnny Gomez, Lambda Chi Alpha and Rich Tompsett, Pi Kappa Alpha are the four sophomores who will serve on junior Student Council.

The four juniors who have been named to senior Student Council are Judi Eichhorn, Chi Omega; Larry Hammer, Sigma Phi Epsilon; John Stolley, Lambda Chi Alpha and Shari Zagor, Alpha Xi Delta.

The two students who will serve on the Board of Student Publications are Phyllis Faasse, Chi Omega and Ginny Bohaty, Alpha Xi Delta.

The all-school election took place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Retiring Student Council members and class officers manned the polls, assisted by Dean Elizabeth Hill and William Gerbracht.

VOTING LIGHTER THAN LAST YEAR

According to Dean of Student Personnel Donald Pflasterer, this year's spring election vote turnout was lighter than last year's by about 200 votes.

Dean Pflasterer went on to say that it took three and one half hours to count the votes. Assisting him in the counting were Dean Elizabeth Hill, William Gerbracht, Student Council President Dud Kersey, Shirley Johnson and Sue Weidenhammer.

Even though the counting was finished by 6:30 p.m., Pflasterer said that there weren't enough counters.

Attira X X X Is To Reign During Day

Top Honor Goes To Chi Omega

Blonde, blue-eyed Earlene Timm was crowned Princess Attira XXX during the annual Ma-ie Day festivities this morning. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

The new Ma-ie Day Princess will reign over the remaining day's festivities, which include a 10:30 parade, noon lunch and games, and a Peony Park dance this evening at 9.

Earlene's background is an unusual one for a Ma-ie Day Princess. She has spent 20 of her 21 years on a farm near Millard and feels that the experience she gained has been "invaluable".

Earlene has received a number of tangible benefits from her dairy farm background, as well as the intangibles previously mentioned. In 1961 she was named Nebraska Dairy Princess in a state-wide contest and previous to that, she was one of the six in the nation to receive National Dairy Award which included a $400 scholarship.

Earlene enjoys all outdoor sports and is equally happy participating and being a spectator. In keeping with her interests, she was last year named NCAA College World Series Queen. Earlene also participates as a cheerleader and is a member of WRA.

Among Earlene's likes are simply "people". People obviously return this regard, as in the past she has been elected both junior and senior class secretary. She has also twice been elected to the Board of Student Publications.

As a freshman she was named first runner-up in the Tomahawk Beauty Contest and has been named to the University of Omaha's Ten Best Dressed List.

Earlene is a member of Angels Flight. She has recently been named Honorary Lt. Col. and last year was "Little Colonel". She has served as Adjutant Recorder (secretary) of the flight and is a member of Marching Angels and Angelaires, singing Angels.

Earlene enjoys music of all types and is a member of her church choir and the University Singers. She also participates in Chi Omega Singers, a group within her sorority.

Earlene will teach in the Austin, Tex. school system next year and hopes to take up graduate work at the University of Texas in the year following.

Happy Hanky Panky!

"Ma-ie Day" Exactly What Is It?

By Paul Matson

Where did the name "Ma-ie Day" originate? Does it really have a meaning? If so, how many University of Omaha students are aware of it?

According to the Student Handbook, Ma-ie Day refers to the end of the planting season, occasion for celebration in the Omaha tribe of Indians. The maiden chosen to reign over the festival each year is Princess Attira, or "ruler over the grain".

Student opinion as the official meaning was quite varied. The main consensus, however, was that it meant "a hellava good time"! One scholarly bootstrapper, who gave his name as Karl Marx, replied in all seriousness "Why, everyone knows that Ma-ie is a Communist holiday!"

One industrious student sitting in the OUampi Room stirring his coffee with a cigarette, replied that Ma-ie Day means "good corn". (He warned, however, that this is the secret meaning and that it must never be revealed to anyone. So don't tell!) Another not quite so agriculturally-minded friend stated with conviction that Ma-ie Day is celebrated in remembrance of the Indian sex-rites.

Another interested listener wondered why it had to have a meaning. "It's just an excuse to get out of school," he said. "What other reason would anyone need"???

Of 25 students who had opinions to offer, nine of the answers were along the lines of "Duh—I dunno. Probably sump-tin' Injun". Amonut the more intelligent answers (actually this was the only intelligent answer!) was this classic, obviously from a psych major: "The mentioned holiday is most likely a joyous occasion on which all scholars may release their frustrations and suppressed desires".

Other students obviously had some of these suppressed desires which they were busily trying to 'unsuppress' at the time of the interview. "C'mon, honey, lets go norgle"! was one such comment and by the time the interviewee got back to the subject, the only answer he would give was "I don't know—but its gotta mean something dirty"!

One student thought that someone years ago had probably misspelled "May Day" and it had remained that way since. Another threw a new light on the subject when he said with a sly smile, "Ma-ie Day—that's a day to go the track, baby"!

The majority polled agreed, however, that Ma-ie Day is a play-day, a day for relaxation and enjoyment. One student summed it up when he said firmly, "Ma-ie Day is a day for fun and games and a little hanky-panky"!

HAPPY HANKY-PANKY!!!

Enrollment in the College of Graduate Studies this semester totals 449, of which 255 are male and 194 are female students.

Want to work for a great outfit?

Great, it is. And profitable to work for. And fun to work for. The outfit is Tupperware, makers of the famous plastic food containers of the same name. You could earn $50 a week or more as a part-time dealer, demonstrating and selling Tupperware at home parties. Truly, a wonderful way to beat the High Cost of Living-on-Campus. Ask your Financial Aid Director about it and call your local Tupperware distributor, listed in the Yellow Pages under Plastics or Housewares. Or send in this coupon...

This number, not widely known, will be done not only because it is enjoyable, but also for the sake of departure from more standardized numbers, according to Jack Malik, band director.

Dula said that this is the first time an OU student has ever been selected to be an intern in this program. Previous trainees have all come from Florida State University.

Indians Take 14-0 Record Into Tomorrow's Games

By DICK FLETCHER

Four games on a Southern road trip stand between the Omaha University baseball team and a perfect regular season. Coach Virgil Yelkin's charges will invade Pittsburg State of Kansas tomorrow for two CIC games.

The Indians will wind up regulation play Monday in Kansas City, Mo., when they face Rockhurst in a double header.

OU, with a 4-0 loop record, and 14-0 overall, clinched its sixth straight CIC title last weekend. Yelkin's teams have won every championship since action started in 1959.

NAIA Berth?

After the schedule is completed, a berth in the NAIA regional tournament should be virtually assured for Omaha. The Nebraska representative will face the Kansas team selected by the NAIA on May 15 and 16 at Nebraska University in Lincoln. The winner of the regional will play the North Dakota-South Dakota champ for the chance to compete in the NAIA Little College World Series. The Indian's chances look good at this time.

The squad came through a busy week of five games in good shape. Pitching aces Larry Krehbiel and Frank Pecha posted two wins apiece, and freshman Larry Wood picked up the other win.

Indians Top CIC

The Indians clobbered CIC rival Washburn 8-3 and 5-0 in Municipal Stadium on Saturday to take command of the conference. The outcome dropped the Ichabods back to 3-3 in loop play.

Pecha, who won the first game, appeared headed for a shutout, but yielded three runs in the sixth inning. Krehbiel, a junior, followed with another of his whitewash jobs, striking out 16 Washburn hitters and allowing three hits.

Senior Catcher Don Gruidel led all batters with two-for-three in both games.

Nebraska Wesleyan gave the Indians a scare Monday before bowing 15-7 on the campus diamond. The Plainsmen cut OU's lead to 8-4 before a seven-run Indian eruption in the eighth inning.

Senior transfer Jim Kincaid was ineffective in relief of Ken McEwen who started the game and gave up an unearned run. In his first appearance, Kincaid needed help from Southpaw Wood, who picked up the win—his second.

Another All-American?

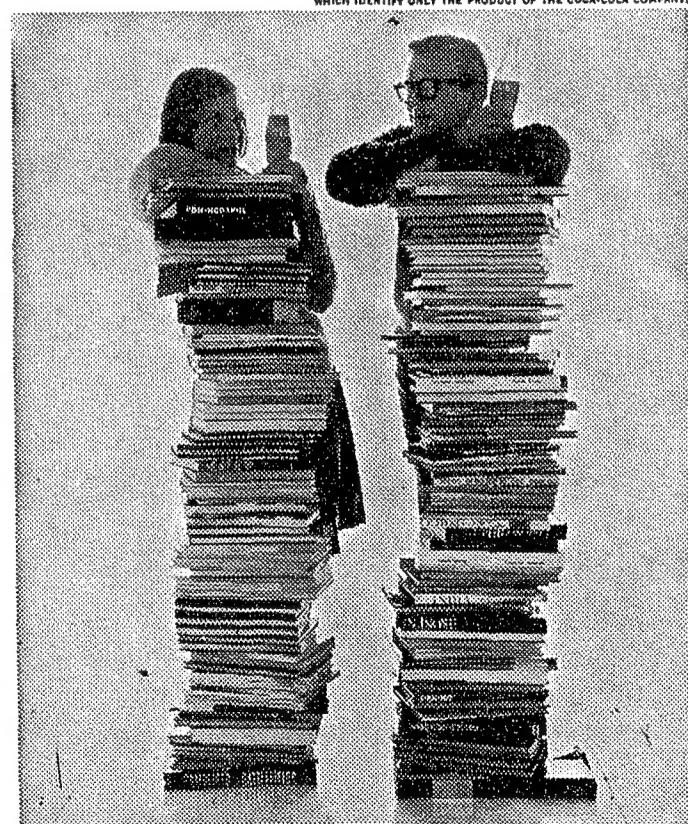

Pecha and Krehbiel teamed up to beat Creighton Wednesday in Municipal Stadium, 7-2 and 8-0.

The senior member of the pitching squad, Pecha saw a no-hitter whipped out in the seventh for the second time this year, when he gave up two singles. He was within one out of a no-hitter earlier this year at Hastings.

Krehbiel, OU's top All-American candidate, ran his string of consecutive scoreless innings to 35, while fanning 11 Blue Jays in the second game. He gave up two hits while protecting the 0.000 earned run average.

Third Baseman Eddie Bryant led hitters for the night with four safeties in five attempts.
